KEY CHALLENGES

TJ Hall were once again proud to be named principle contractor by De Montfort University for the refurbishment of a historic Wesley building in Leicester city centre, into the new De Montfort University School of Architecture. This project posed many challenges such as the protection of existing finishes. TJ Hall showed their unparalleled stripping out skills in preparing the site for the refit while retaining the features requested by the client. TJ Hall were able to accommodate a number of spec changes, mid-build by the client, to bring the project in on time and on budget.
